From the President:

Disequilibrium

What does the “new normal” look like if you are an educator? As a retired school leader from the K-12 educational world and an active member of university level teaching, I know that there was a time when I was able to look at students, teachers, staff, parents, and community members through a lens that embraced a common goal of preparing students to become who they were destined to be. As a teacher and an administrator, I believed that I was destined to “Enlarge the Winner’s Circle” and help people to succeed. I honestly believed that every single person in the school building and parent who brought the child to the school shared that common goal.

I think that is still true today. However, the level of disequilibrium in our current time makes schooling feel like a top spinning out of control, and those that think they have found the “new normal” are seriously mistaken because that top is still spinning and moving across the educational landscape in ways that none of us are prepared for or can accurately predict. And, for those who think that they have the answer, I ask, “Have you heard the real voices of the teachers, students, administrators, staff, and parents who are in the trenches making history as they create the “new normal” for education?”

The very foundations of academics should be examined to unpack the tenets that support public education and give us some insight into the current reality of those who walk through the physical and virtual doors of the school building. We need to listen with full attention and open hearts as we hear what is happening now and what is needed in the future. We need to listen with open hands to learn how we can support our colleagues as they continue to “enlarge the winner’s circle” by creating learning experiences that help students grow and be successful as individuals and as members of the larger community. We need to speak out and join the dialogue about our profession, its purpose, its value, and its course for the years ahead.

So, what if your life was not quite “normal” in March Before Corona 2020 (BC20)? Join the dialogue and shape a “normal” that works for everyone. Speak about the truth of your experiences and shape the landscape of schooling for tomorrow.

I. Welcome
Meeting was called to order at 3:36pm. Attendees were asked to type name by entering in the chat for tracking.

II. Approval of Minutes
The minutes from the January 25, 2021 meeting were shared in Teams group, listserv distribution list, and on the website. Motions by Michael Perry to approve the minutes as published with second by Diana Honey passed unanimously.

III. President’s Update
Michael filled presided over the meeting for Joanne who was out of town for family business.

A. State Bonus Status
Part-Time Faculty – Michael asked Joanne Lee to address this issue as she was present online. Distribution of the bonus was a BOR decision which followed the model from the state plan issued by Governor Brian Kemp. Joanne has spoken on behalf of the PTFC in regard to part-time faculty not being eligible for the onetime bonus and brought this to the attention of KSU leadership.

B. Faculty Senate
Michael attended the Faculty Senate meeting in Joanne’s place and provided an update from Senate.

1. Motion on COVID 19 Vaccination at KSU Passed: CoVIS19—Passed: Given that a significant number of KSU faculty were required to return to face-to-face teaching during the highest peak of the COVID19 pandemic, we would like to propose the following: 1. Face-to-face faculty should have priority in receiving the COVID19 vaccine. While the exclusively online faculty have received accommodations to work from home during this time, face-to-face faculty are at a considerable higher risk from exposure to COVID19. 2. We would also like to propose that the onsite vaccination efforts be expanded to include dependent family members of our faculty who are also at higher risk due to the faculty’s return to f2f teaching. This measure would alleviate the face-to-face faculty concerns related to their safety in the workplace in Spring 2021. Faculty could present a print-out of their class schedule to show that they are f2f faculty at the vaccination site.

2. Motion on ARD Resolution Passed: Whereas, the KSU administration has repeatedly asserted that no chairs will be as ked to perform annual evaluations “on a curve;” and Whereas, “grading on a curve” refers to an assessment in which one is compared to others in their cohort rather than being evaluated based on stable criteria; and Whereas, “grading on a curve” or being assessed in comparison to an average distribution, always results in some being below and above average instead of the possibility of everyone being evaluated as successful (or not); and Whereas, the KSU administration has asked chairs, faculty, and supervisors to take into consideration the extraordinary circumstances of the pandemic throughout 2020; and Whereas, the year 2020 has indeed been an extraordinarily difficult year which included KSU workers moving to fully remote instruction with 2 days to prepare, layoffs and a lack of contract renewals resulting in higher workloads for those remaining staff and faculty, last minute changes to instruction delivery, and increased responsibilities for staff and faculty due to the need to maintain a safe work environment during the pandemic, on top of increased and widespread health uncertainties, family and friends dying in higher numbers than other years, and living in a world grappling with economic devastation, and political stressors; and Whereas, annual evaluations can have a serious impact on employment, promotions, and raises, as well as, a worker’s feeling of worth and appreciation for working hard; therefore be it Resolved, that the administration should work to establish non-competitive/non-comparative criteria for annual reviews; be it further Resolved, that considering the extraordinary circumstances of the year 2020, all chairs and supervisors should be directed to evaluate all faculty and staff as going above and beyond the regular call of their work duty by ranking faculty as successful (or not); and Whereas, the KSU administration has asked chairs, faculty, and supervisors to take into consideration the extraordinary circumstances of the year 2020 and Whereas, the KSU administration has asked chairs, faculty, and supervisors to take into consideration the extraordinary circumstances of the year 2020; and Whereas, the year 2020 has indeed been an extraordinarily difficult year which included KSU workers moving to fully remote instruction with 2 days to prepare, layoffs and a lack of contract renewals resulting in higher workloads for those remaining staff and faculty, last minute changes to instruction delivery, and increased responsibilities for staff and faculty due to the need to maintain a safe work environment during the pandemic, on top of increased and widespread health uncertainties, family and friends dying in higher numbers than other years, and living in a world grappling with economic devastation, and political stressors; and Whereas, annual evaluations can have a serious impact on employment, promotions, and raises, as well as, a worker’s feeling of worth and appreciation for working hard; therefore be it Resolved, that the administration should work to establish non-competitive/non-comparative criteria for annual reviews; be it further Resolved, that considering the extraordinary circumstances of the year 2020, all chairs and supervisors should be directed to evaluate all faculty and staff as going above and beyond the regular call of their work duty by ranking faculty as exceeding expectations” and giving the highest performance ratings for staff, with any deviations from this policy requiring justification.

3. Jobs Resolution Passed: A resolution imploring the administration to promise to protect jobs during the pandemic by reversing layoffs from the past year and promising no future layoffs. Here is our draft language: “Whereas, KSU revenues this year are higher than expected and Governor Kemp has already promised no additional state cuts in the coming year; and Whereas, we are all part of the KSU community and need each other to provide quality education and experience to our students; and Whereas, we need to retain our talented staff through the pandemic; and Whereas, any worker working outside of their home during the pan-
